

Tashakor - Thank you!

Even without knowledge of Tajik or the language of the Pamir people, we would have understood this word: Tashakor - Thank you! Every conversation we have in the village of Shujand, every gesture and every look expresses what the people feel - gratitude.

Your help brings hope

When the team of brothers from the church in Dushanbe brought the first relief supplies to Shujand in July, the people were overwhelmed by the willingness of the Christians to help - and by your willingness to sacrifice, dear friends, which has made this first relief action possible. It is this testimony of loving care which causes so much gratitude in the hearts of the Pamir people. They feel that with the relief goods they receive above all the message that they are not forgotten, and that God cares for them through His children.
